Sunday, March 18: Unwearin' o' the Green, St. Patrick's Day party at the Inn at East Hill Farm, Troy, from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., followed by a family-style meal featuring corned beef and baked haddock. All-inclusive cost is $55 per person in advance, $60 at the door, with a discount for members.

Sunday, April 22: Mountain Spring celebrates Earth Day at the NH Mountain Inn in Wilmot. Clothing-optional swim/social from 1 to 5 p.m., followed by a full meal in the dining room. All-inclusive cost is $55 per person in advance, $60 at the door, with discount for members.

Saturday, May 5: Cinco de Mayo-Ropa Opcional. Tentative plans for a clothing-optional celebration of Mexico's victory over the French would have us going to Abbott's Glen in Jacksonville VT. We're awaiting confirmation of the event which would bring us back there for the first time in a decade. Watch for updates.

Spring Is Coming

Those below-zero days are behind us and it's 45 degrees as I write this. By the time we get together for our Unwearin' o' the Green, we're hoping even more spring-like days will be with us. But even if they're not, we'll be safely inside, enjoying the pool, hot tub, and sauna, and preparing for that delicious family-style meal of baked haddock and — of course — corned beef.

By the time Earth Day rolls around on April 22, we expect the weather will be perfect for sunning on the deck or by the pond, as well as enjoying their warm inside pool, hot tub, and sauna. And Patrick always comes up with something wonderful for the meal that follows — sometimes offered as a clothing-optional dining experience, depending upon who else may be staying at the inn.

We also hope to celebrate Cinco de Mayo this year in our own ropa opcional way, so watch for details on that as we firm up plans for the day. The holiday and our celebration of it would take place on a Saturday, giving everyone an opportunity to attend the Maine Coast Solar Bares' swim in Ogunquit the following day. Both of these events are awaiting confirmation from the owners, but we're putting them on our calendars, anyway.

Then, at the end of June, we have a weekend scheduled at the Field and Forest Recreation Area in Harrisville. We booked the weekend of June 29-July 1 last fall, with the intention of pulling together the Limitless Art and Music Festival that got derailed last year, but — guess what? — the Naturist Society's Eastern Naturist Gathering subsequently got scheduled for the same period, so the festival has been derailed again. There is no way our little festival would be able to compete against TNS, but having booked the weekend — the only date available at Field and Forest — we'll go ahead with a small-scale weekend encampment for those who will not be attending the Eastern Naturist Gathering. Now that we got a foot in the door, or a nose under the tent, we don't want to lose this new venue, which is adaptable to so many things.

We'll need to determine how many might be attending, and make our plans around those numbers. If you will not be attending the ENG due to cost or distance, this can be a good alternative, so let us know, and we'll work out what an NNH Festival would be like.
