Friday - Sunday, July 28 - 30: Limitless Art & Music Festival, NH Mountain Inn, Wilmot.

Full schedule.

Mountain Spring

We're going to try again. Our April 9 gathering had to be postponed when the pool heater at the NH Mountain Inn died, so Mountain Spring will take place instead on Sunday, May 21. By then, it really will be spring; we had some late in April snowstorms that took a while to melt away.

Menu choices for the clothing-optional meal are: 1. baked ham, sweet potatoes and seasonal vegetable; or 2. shrimp scampi over pasta. And, yes, we do not expect other guests at the inn, so we should be able to dine au naturel once again.

The afternoon, where the chance to be clothing-optional is guaranteed, will begin at 1 p.m. with snacks and relaxation around the pool and game area. Bring your own towel and snacks to share. Make RESERVATIONS here or use the form on the back of this newsletter.

Naked Comedy

The lineup for the Limitless Art & Music Festival now includes Alison Klemp, a stand-up comedian who performs at New York City's The Naked Show.

Early Bird tickets, offering festival admission at 40 percent off the gate price, are on sale through May 15 HERE.

Others scheduled to perform at the NH Mountain Inn on the weekend of July 28 - 30 are The Trichomes, Supernothing, Stains of a Sunflower, and jazz clarinet-player Brad Terry.

We're still looking to fill in the entertainment calendar, as well as seeking people to lead workshops in yoga, life drawing (models needed, too), HAM radio, and any other interests. Crafts and demonstrations, food vendors, and games will be offered as well.

Another Deadline: The Naturist Society is increasing its membership rates on May 1, so if you want to lock in the current rate, renew (or join) now. By joining through NNH, a portion of your dues will support the local club.
